BOQUEIXÓN

Boqueixón, a rural municipality which comprises fourteen parishes, offers a wide range of places of great natural beauty and interest which reflect the authenticity of inland Galicia, from the heights of Monte Castelo, at the bottom of the ancient French Route of the Way of St. James, to the depression formed by the river Ulla at Ponte Ledesma, through the ever-present Pico Sacro. We recommend visitors a comprehensive journey throughout its territories, highlighting the following landmarks:

Loureda: viewpoint at Monte Castelo and parish church
Gastrar: recreational area, Interpretation Centre of water mills and ancient settlement
Vigo: waterfall
Lamas: cruceiro* and parish church
Boqueixón: parish church
Codeso: natural area of the Chapel of San Paio, with watermills and a waterfall
Donas: viewpoint over Gundián bridge, burga (medicinal waters)
Sucira: recreational area at river Ulla.
Ledesma: recreational area at Gres islands and old bridge of nine arches
Oural: parish church and chapel of Castro
Pousada: chapel of Nosa Señora da Fonte
A Granxa: church of San Lourenzo and Pico Sacro
Lestedo: Interpretation Centre of Pico Sacro, waterfall of Ramil, church of Santa María de Lestedo and shopping area
Sergude: chapel of San Bieito de Rodiño

PICO SACRO

This mountain, which raises over the valleys of the middle course of river Ulla, next to Santiago de Compostela, is one of the most famous and legendary mountains in Galicia. Pico Sacro is an endless source of legends and folk tales and was venerated by the inhabitants of the region both before and after the Christian era. One of these legends contained in the Codex Calixtinus binds Pico Sacro together with Saint James. The story tells how the disciples of St. James were attacked by a dragon and braves bulls on top of the mountain and how faith helped to eventually control such beasts.

Another legend also tells about Roman works in search of gold to explain the presence of the two caves near the summit and a large cleft in the rocks, called the street of Queen Lupa. Every excursion to the summit of Pico Sacro is a great experience in which you can appreciate its pointed shape, able to stop and undo storms, its unusual morphology based on crystallized quartz rocks and its nearly 600 meters height.

Pico Sacro also hides the remains of a medieval fortress and the architectural treasures of the Chapel of San Sebastian and the Church of San Lourenzo de A Granxa, which have their origins in a former monastery of the ninth century.

HOW TO GET TO BOQUEIXÓN

It is very easy to get to Boqueixón and tour around its parishes if we take Santiago as reference. The road N-525 Santiago-Ourense leads to about eight kilometres from Boqueixón, entering by A Susana and passing through the parishes of Sergude and Lestedo. A Susana also connects to AC-960, which leads to river Ulla at Ledesma through most of the parishes of Boqueixón. Furthermore, you can also travel from Touro or Ponte Ulla taking the AC-940, or from Sar taking the AC-961. If you are taking the road Lugo-Santiago near Lavacolla airport, you can also get to Boqueixón by taking a local road which goes through the northern parishes of Boqueixón.
